

PATRICIA MISHIC O'BRIEN, MBA

Patricia Mishic O'Brien is a global, C-Suite executive for public and private companies focused on transformational sustainable growth. Her strategic expertise in diverse industries at different maturities allows her to understand which levers to pull when disruption occurs. Ms. Mishic O'Brien has led successful transformations and turnarounds through M&A efforts, integrations, and digital initiatives. With strategic vision, and financial acumen as her foundation, she consistently adds value to boards of directors.

Currently, she is Chief Commercial Officer, with P&L responsibility for revenue and an operating budget, including all sales, marketing, sales operations, and product management, at CoorsTek, Inc., a $1B+, global manufacturer of engineered ceramics for the semiconductor, aerospace and defense, medical device and implants, automotive, oil & gas and chemical industries. Under Patricia's leadership, revenue has grown 17% with significant improvement in pricing, market share, gross margin percentage, and EBITDA.

Ms. Mishic O'Brien is known for building and managing profitable global businesses in the specialty and advanced materials sectors. She currently serves as a member of the Board of Directors of CoorsTek KK, formerly Toshiba Ceramics, a subsidiary headquartered in Tokyo, Japan. The company, with five manufacturing facilities throughout Japan as well as an R&D center, has global sales primarily into the semiconductor industry as well as automotive, medical and machine and equipment. Ms. Mishic O'Brien is also a community board member of St. Anthony Hospital and St. Anthony Hospital North, which are part of Centura Health.

Earlier as the Chief Marketing Officer and Executive Vice President of A. Schulman, Inc., a $2.5B NASDAQ company, she routinely interacted and led complex discussions with the Board of Directors resulting in its commitment to the new strategy. During Ms. Mishic O'Brien's 12-year tenure at The Dow Chemical Company, she held domestic and global executive leadership roles with increasing responsibility in strategic marketing and business development in a variety of industries.

She has been actively involved in a variety of community organizations as a former member of the University of Akron's College of Business Administration Marketing Committee and its Office of Advancement Branding Advisory Committee. Earlier, she served on Girl Scouts of America's Regional Council Boards of Trustees for 18 years, and the Board of Zonta International. Ms. Mishic O'Brien is a frequent speaker to groups including, the American Ceramic Society, ISBM at Pennsylvania State University, University of Akron, Kent State University, and Youngstown State University.

Ms. Mishic O'Brien holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration in Industrial Marketing from Youngstown State University, an MBA from the University of Akron, and completed Executive Management and Entrepreneurial Programs at Babson College and IMD. She is a member of both the National Association of Corporate Directors Fellowship® and WomenCorporateDirectors. She lives in Denver, Colorado.